NATURE OF THE SPARK

One-time thought-leadership and awareness

HIGHLIGHTS & IMPACT

- Speaker: Professor Viney Aneja, among the world's top 2% scientists in climate research, as recognised by Stanford University (2024).
- Simplified complex climate and clean air concepts into relatable contexts.
- Encouraged thoughtful dialogue among students and teachers.
- Bridged scientific research with practical environmental responsibility.
- Extended access and inclusivity through national livestreaming.
- Inspired young learners to recognise the impact of small, consistent actions on environmental health.

ENDURING VALUE

The Fireside Chat strengthened climate awareness and scientific temper among young learners, reinforcing the idea that informed understanding is the foundation for responsible action towards a healthier and more sustainable future.

"When science speaks in a language young minds understand, responsibility naturally follows."
